THE OPPORTUNITY

- Many investors have a medium to longer term investment horizon than that offered by bank term deposits.
- The demand from investors for attractive medium to long term interest rate securities are expected to grow.
- These factors, combine with SPX's efficient and cost effective trading of the listed bonds on SPX's Over the Counter (OTC) Market, in compliance with OTC Listing and Trading Rules. Provide investors a viable alternative investment vehicle.
- Corporate Bonds can be a good investment for those looking for safety and a fixed rate of interest that's paid quarterly until the bond's maturity. Bonds are an important piece of an investment portfolio's asset allocation since the steady return from bonds helps offset the volatility of equity prices.

- Investors typically invest in bonds as they provide a predictable income stream. Bonds pay interest quarterly per year. If the FHL Wholesale Corporate Bonds are held to maturity, bondholders get back the entire principal, so bonds are a way to preserve capital while investing.
- FHL Wholesale Corporate Bonds offer investors the benefit of higher yields than traditional fixed interest securities (such as Government and Semi-Government bonds) while providing liquidity via an SPX listing on the OTC market.

Key Assumptions

FHL Group is on the road to recovery. The Group recorded its first financial loss for the year ended June 2021, mainly as a result of the COVID19 pandemic as well as some loss-making investments. The focus in FY22 has been on strengthening our governance and recruitment of the right people.

In this regard, significant changes have been made including the following:

1. 8 leadership changes have been made including the FHL Group CEO, MFL CEO, BIL CEO, FHPL GM, FHUT GM, FTV GM, GMHR, and GMAR;
2. Some changes to Board memberships to bring in directors with relevant industry experience;
3. Introduction of key Group policies including a new dividend policy based on free cash flow;
4. Introduction of new investment policy;
5. Review of organization structures for most of the subsidiaries;
6. Divestment of two non-performing investments (SIL and Pernix);
7. Split banking arrangements;
8. Internal divestment of 10% of MFL shares to FHUT;

The positive impact from the above, together with the opening of Fiji borders in December 2021 has resulted in the positive results for the year ended June 2022. The Group has recorded a profit before tax of $18.6m for FY22 compared to a loss of $15.9m in FY21.

Strategic Priorities for FY2023-FY2025

Underpinned by the theme of “Consolidate, Transform and Grow” the Board has approved the Strategic Plan with the following 5 key priorities for the Group in the next 3 years:

1. Strengthening our Core subsidiaries;
2. Working-out the non-performing investments;
3. Completion and tenancing the FHL Tower;
4. Restructuring our financing capacity; and
5. Pursuing new investment opportunities.

Note	Account	Assumptions
A.	Group Revenue	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Forecast improvements in Group performance for FY2023 is based on turnaround of SSC and BIL. This is on the back of the full opening of the Tourism sector and committed public infrastructure works. - Tourism arrivals has exceeded initial re-opening expectation with industry recovering up to 70% of 2019 arrivals number. SSC expects to see an increase in day cruises, resort connections and Blue Lagoon cruise year on year. Revenue also expected to be generated from Sabre (South Sea Sailing's brand new 78-foot sailing catamaran). SSC revenue will grow further in FY2024 as the Yasawa market opens up and stabilises in 2025. Awesome Adventures Fiji products also expected to increase year on year by 10% in FY24 and FY25. - MFL operating revenue is expected to increase with the introduction of their new products such as unsecured loans, agriculture finance, white goods finance etc. Apart from portfolio growth, the asset quality will also improve as the economy grows. - Retail sector is expected to see an increase in the range of 7% - 8% in revenue driven by the consumer demand as we see economic recovery. - The construction division with planned projects on hand also expect to do better in construction industry compared to FY22. BIL is in the transition phase and accelerated turnaround is the prime focus for the company. Sales expected to grow by 3% to 5% in FY24 and FY25.
B.	Group Expenses	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Cost of sales increase is in correlation to increase in revenue. Supply chain disruptions, global inflationary pressure, elevated liquidity, freight increase etc. have been accounted for accordingly. - COGS to revenue is expected to be similar (prior to COVID) for the retail division whereas other division are expected to normalise by FY25. - Group expects major capex investments in FY23 especially in its construction sector which will have full impacts from FY24 onwards towards depreciation charges. Total investment planned for 3 years is around $35m for the Group. It is critical to invest in PPE for ongoing business sustainability and to achieve the desired results. - Interest expense is expected to increase year on year due to new investments planned, capex funding and property investment (major one being FHL Tower project). - Raising of Corporate Bonds is also going to impact the interest expense as interest will be paid on fixed sum for 3, 5 and 7 years with principal payment due on maturity.

C.	Group Financial Position	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Balance sheet from FY23 to FY25 reflects the growth in P&L with gradual improvements noted in the Net Assets. - The Corporate Bond raising by FHL of $30m in FY23 will be utilised to repay FHL debt with BSP Bank, allowing additional capacity for expansion of its investment portfolio. - In FY24, the Group will issue $15m loan to FHL Properties to clear the $15m loan with Bred Bank for the construction of the FHL Tower. This arrangement will provide more flexibility to cash flow, allowing the Group adequate time for tenancy of the FHL Tower before the principal payments commences. - Increase in Group borrowing apart from debt swap as mentioned above is largely driven by the borrowing to complete the FHL Tower project which has an estimated cost to complete of $40m and CAPEX for Basic Industries Limited. - FHL will also be pursuing new investment opportunities. This is expected to be done at associate level investment with returns expected in FY25.
D.	Group Cash Flows	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Cash flow is consistent with the growth in P&L and the Balance sheet. Major improvement in cash flow is coming from the improvement in operating activities generally showing business turnaround and better cash flow management. - Cash flow from Investing remains consistent to the planned CAPEX program. - In FY23, Corporate Bonds raised of $30m will be immediately utilised to repay FHL debts for the same amount. Approximately $40m will be drawn for the completion of the FHL Tower project with the balance utilised for BIL CAPEX $13.7m and $7.6m for SIL settlement. - In FY24, FHL will issue $15m loan to FHLP for FHL Tower to reduce its debts with BRED bank on a back to back arrangement. This will reinstate FHL debt with BSP Bank by the same amount. FHL is expected to establish a new facility of $23m to support new Investments. Additional $7m will be needed for BIL CAPEX program. FY24 repayment also includes lump sum loan repayment from BIL estimated at $10.8m and SSC is expected to start its P&I in the same year. - FY25 represents borrowing of $5m from BIL for CAPEX while repayments represent normal P&I payments from subsidiary companies.

We are responsible for reviewing that the Prospective Financial Information is prepared on the basis of the hypothetical assumptions, and is in line with the recognition and measurement principles contained in the International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) and the Company's adopted accounting policies.

Our engagement was conducted in accordance with International Standard on Assurance Engagements (ISAE) 3400 "The Examination of Prospective Financial Information". We express limited assurance conclusions on the basis of preparation of the Prospective Financial Information based on our review.

Our procedures consist primarily of enquiries of Directors and management of the Company and its subsidiaries (where appropriate), performing analytical review procedures, and review of the relevant accounting records and other documents supporting the assumptions used in the preparation of the Prospective Financial Information, and the related figures and disclosures in the PFI. We have obtained all the necessary information and explanation required. The procedures are therefore substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with International Standards on Auditing. Conclusion

We have examined the Prospective Financial Information in accordance with International Standard on Assurance Engagements applicable to the examination of prospective financial information. Based on our limited assurance engagement, which is not a reasonable assurance engagement, nothing has come to our attention which causes us to believe that in all material respects, the projected Financial Information:

- is not prepared on the basis of the directors' hypothetical assumptions described in Section 07 of the Information Memorandum; and
- is not presented fairly in accordance with the stated basis of preparation, being the recognition and measurement principles contained in the International Financial Reporting (IFRS) and Company's adopted accounting policies.

Even if the events anticipated under the assumptions described above occur, actual results are still likely to be different from the Projected Financial Information since other anticipated events frequently do not occur as expected and the variation may be material.

We relied on representation from the directors and management of Fijian Holdings Limited that all information provided to us for the purpose of our work is true, complete and accurate in all respects. We have no reason to believe that the representation is false.

09 RISKS OF INVESTING

INTRODUCTION

This section 9 describes the following potential key risk factors:

- specific risks relating to the Issuer's creditworthiness; and
- general risks associated with an investment in the FHL Wholesale Corporate Bonds.

Key risks outlined in this section are based on an assessment of the probability of a risk occurring and its potential impact (individually or in combination with other key risks) at the date of this IM. There is no guarantee or assurance that key risks will not change, alter in their significance or that other risks will not emerge.

You should carefully consider these risk factors (together with the other information in this IM) before deciding to invest in the FHL Wholesale Corporate Bonds.

Before making any investment decision it is important that investors consider the suitability of an investment in the FHL Wholesale Corporate Bonds in light of their own individual risk profile for investments, investment objectives and personal circumstances (including financial and taxation issues). The risks described in this section do not take account of the personal circumstances, financial position or investment requirements of any particular person other than FHL.

Specific Risks Relating to the Issuer's Creditworthiness

The Issuer considers that the circumstances which could significantly affect, either individually or in combination, the future financial position and performance of FHL, and therefore significantly increase the risk that the Issuer may default on its obligations under the FHL Wholesale Corporate Bonds are as set out below. These circumstances, either individually or in combination, may affect the Issuer's ability to pay interest on, or repay, the FHL Wholesale Corporate Bonds.

Credit Risk On FHL

The risk that the Issuer (or another member of FHL) becomes insolvent and is unable to meet its obligations under the FHL Wholesale Corporate Bonds. If the Security is insufficient to repay you in these circumstances, you might not recover the amount of your investment in the FHL Wholesale Corporate Bonds or receive the returns you expect.

Risks Relating to the Group's Financial Condition and the Impact of the Covid-19 Pandemic

The COVID-19 pandemic, together with the closure of all non-essential businesses and the closure of international borders have had and may continue to have a material adverse effect on the Group in the event of future closures.

It is not possible to quantify the potential impact of pandemic-related risks as they are highly dependent on the nature, extent and duration of any future outbreak and the Government's response to such an outbreak. However, the effects could be significant.

Regulation and Government Reform Risk

FHL operates in regulated industries, where ongoing compliance is vital from both a legal and reputational perspective.

There is the risk that Government or a Regulatory body may change a law, regulation or policy (including, without limitation, tax laws or policies), or that the interpretation of a law or regulation may change, or that court may make a decision, which adversely affects the value of the FHL or the tax treatment of the bondholders.

Development Risk

FHL incurred development related capital expenditure of $70 million in the year to completing the construction of FHL Tower.

FHL's continued growth is reliant on execution of its development programme, which involves key construction and property development risks. These risks include:

- risks of material project delay, leading to increased holding costs and other increased expenses (particularly during periods of 'lockdown' and similar for COVID-19, as discussed above).
- risk of default by participants in the development process, including construction contractors defaulting in the performance of their respective obligations, contractor (and sub-contractor) shortages and industrial disputes with suppliers and contractors. Such defaults can lead to significant further delays and costs;
- the risk that the timing of completion or quality of FHL Tower is impacted by insufficient project governance, poor quality design or delays in achieving required building and resource consents; and
- skilled labour and material shortages (including as a result of disrupted supply lines from COVID-19).

These risks may lead to increased overall costs, lower or delayed returns, and inability to complete in progress developments and realise cash incurred. To mitigate these risks, FHL has established an experienced internal property development team, which allows FHL to exercise a greater degree of governance over the development and construction process. FHL also adopts a robust process for tendering projects and selecting skilled and qualified contractors, although variations and construction cost escalation may still occur throughout the lifecycle of construction activities.

Property Market Risk and Flow-On Effects of Market Changes

Earnings generated through the rental properties makes up a significant portion of FHL's cash flows and underlying earnings.

Changing property market conditions could have a flow on impact to the value of property assets, and the associated investment property valuation. This would impact both the financial position and performance of FHL. A material reduction may impact the Issuer's ability to meet its Loan to Valuation Ratio.

Climate-related Risk

FHL may face physical risks to its business, including natural disasters, flooding, storm damages and fires, as well as longer term transitional risks as a result of climate change. There can be no guarantee that the FHL will successfully mitigate these climate-related risks and the related impacts. In the event of extreme weather, flooding or significant issues with the FHL's operations may be adversely impacted.

General Economic and Business Conditions

The operating and financial performance of FHL is influenced by a variety of general economic and business conditions including:

- (a) the level of inflation;
- (b) interest rates;
- (c) government fiscal, monetary and regulatory policies;
- (d) industrial disputes; and
- (e) fluctuations in the global economy and international exchange rates.

A prolonged deterioration in general economic conditions could be expected to have a corresponding adverse impact on the operating and financial performance of FHL.

GENERAL RISKS

An investment in the FHL Wholesale Corporate Bonds is subject to the following general risks.

Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk of financial loss to the Company and the Group if a customer or counterparty to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligations, and arises principally from the Company and the Group's receivables and loans and advances to customers and investments in debt securities. Credit risk arises from cash and cash equivalents, deposits with banks and financial institutions, including outstanding receivables and committed transactions. For potential rental tenants, a screening process, similar to a due diligence is performed, prior to leases being granted. For banks and financial institutions, only reputable parties are acceptable. As far as practicable, if wholesale customers are independently rated, these ratings are used. Otherwise, if there is no independent ranking, risk control assesses the credit quality of the customer, taking into account its financial position, past experience and other factors. Individual risk limits are set based on internal or external ratings in accordance with set limits. The utilisation of credit limits is regularly monitored. Sales to retail customers are settled in cash or using major credit cards.

Liquidity Risks

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Group will encounter difficulty in meeting its obligations arising from its financial liabilities. Prudent and careful management of the Group's liquidity position is essential in order to ensure that adequate funds are available to meet the Group's ongoing financial obligations. Prudent liquidity risk management implies maintaining sufficient cash, marketable securities and the availability of funding through an adequate amount of committed credit facilities. Due to the dynamic nature of the underlying business of the Group, management aims at maintaining flexibility in funding by keeping committed credit lines available.

Market Risk

Market risk is the risk that changes in market prices, such as interest rate, equity prices, foreign exchange rates and credit spreads will affect the liquidity and pricing of the FHL Wholesale Corporate Bonds in the bond market.

Secondary Market Risk

The risk that, if you wish to sell your Bonds before maturity:

- you may be unable to find a buyer; or
- the price at which you are able to sell them is less than the amount you paid for them.

These outcomes may arise because of factors related to the Issuer's creditworthiness, or because of other factors. These other factors may include the following:

- An active secondary market in respect of the FHL Wholesale Corporate Bonds may be illiquid and this would adversely affect the value at which an investor could sell the FHL Wholesale Corporate Bonds.
- The level, direction and volatility of market interest rates. For example, if market interest rates go up, the market value of the FHL Wholesale Corporate Bonds would typically be expected to go down and vice versa.

10 TAX

In accordance with Income Tax (Exempt Income) Regulations 2016 (as amended by Income Tax (Exempt Income) (Amendment) Regulations 2020), interest income earned on corporate bonds traded on the South Pacific Stock Exchange shall be exempt income in the hands of the bondholder. It means that such an interest amount shall be exempt from withholding tax or income tax.

The above generalised summary is based on the taxation laws in force in Fiji as at the date of this IM. Future changes to these or other laws may affect the tax consequences of an investment in the FHL Wholesale Corporate Bonds.

Bond transfers are liable for capital gains tax and should be included in income returns submitted to the Fiji Revenue & Customs Service.

Investors should take their own tax advice as to the consequences of owning FHL Bonds as well as receiving returns from them.

11 TRADING AND SETTLEMENT FRAMEWORK

TRADING, CLEARING AND SETTLEMENT FRAMEWORK

Bonds issued pursuant to the Information Memorandum will be listed in accordance with Over the Counter (OTC) Listing and Trading Rule Book of SPX and the indicative timetable set out in Section 2 of this Information Memorandum.

Pending the issue of the FHL Wholesale Corporate Bonds pursuant to this Information Memorandum, all Application monies will be held by the Company in trust for the Applicants in a separate bank account as required by section 288 of the Companies Act. The Company, however, will be entitled to retain all interest that accrues on the bank account and each Applicant waives the right to claim interest by completing and returning the Application Form.

The expected dates for issue of bonds by this Information Memorandum and dispatch of holding statements is expected to occur on the dates specified in the Timetable set out in Section 2 of this Information Memorandum.

SPX TRADING AND SETTLEMENT

Trading of FHL quoted debt securities is conducted between broking firms who act on behalf of their clients, in the same way as quoted equity securities. The trading is conducted on SPX OTC Market.

The broker responsible for a sale will confirm with the registrar before trade execution that the FHL Wholesale Corporate Bonds being sold are registered in the name of the selling client, that they are unencumbered and available for sale and that the registrar knows that the FHL Wholesale Corporate Bonds are in process of being sold by the client.

The terms of possible trades in FHL Wholesale Corporate Bonds will initially be agreed bilaterally between the brokers representing the buying and selling investor, after which each of those brokers will submit details of the trade as per the Prescribed Form to the SPX, on the same day as the agreement is reached.

SPX will review the details of the trade and once satisfied that there is a matching agreement on all terms of the trade, SPX will issue a matching confirmation to the brokers. Once a matching confirmation has been received, the brokers will input the orders that correspond to them into the OTC Market set up for this purpose by the SPX on its trading system and execute the trades in the immediate trading session. These orders will be priced at the clean price of the trade, which is the price that will be used for matching. The trade details will be published by SPX.

The registrar will record the transfer and issue a bond certificate or holding statement, whichever is applicable, in the name of the buying investor. If there is a balance of bonds remaining for the selling investor, where the amount executed is less than the amount certified on the bond certificate or holding statement, the registrar will also issue a new bond certificate or holding statement, whichever is applicable, for that remaining balance in the name of the selling investor.

The registrar will deliver the new bond certificates or the holding statements, whichever is applicable, to the SPX within three (3) business days from the date that the bond transfer documents are sent by the SPX to the registrar for registration.

On receipt of new bond certificates or the holding statement from the registrar, the SPX will deliver them to the corresponding broker on or before the next business day.
